

Cultural Stewardship Program (CSP)

The CSP is designed to help you look after your artifacts. From storage and packing to facilities and buildings, CSP helps you with your conservation issues. And best of all, these services are available to you absolutely free!

If you have questions or concerns about your building, storage, or artifacts, we can help. If you would like to work on Preventive Conservation or Emergency Preparedness, we can help. Would you like a site visit? An artifact assessment? An information session for your board? Would you like hands-on training for your volunteers? A meeting to discuss your conservation concerns? A workshop on preventive conservation? Let us know and we will try to accommodate you.

Would you like to borrow environmental monitoring equipment? Would you like to know how to set-up the equipment or interpret the results? The AMM has environmental monitoring equipment that members can borrow for free. We'll drop it off as part of our road trip; all you are responsible for is getting the equipment back to us.

Bradley Froggatt and Jane Dalley of Dalley Froggatt Heritage Conservation Service is working for the AMM on the Cultural Stewardship Program. If you'd like to bend their ear, have them visit your institution, give us a call.
